

Foreign Credential Evaluating Agencies

The Louisiana Department of Education does not translate foreign credentials or evaluate transcripts from colleges and universities outside of the United States unless the institution is accredited by one of the U.S. regional accrediting agencies. You may choose to submit your credentials to a credentialing agency that follows the standards of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers (AACRAO) for evaluation. The following agencies have attested to following the standards of AACRAO and can provide a course-by-course evaluation of your foreign transcripts/credentials:
